S.U.H.S. Will Present Musical Program Here

Orchestra and Choral Group To Perform at J.C. Next Week

March 7 will be an important day, and 10:00 an important hour. This is the time, when in the men's gymnasium, the Salinas Union High School choir and orchestra will make their 1945 debut at Salinas Junior College with a pleasant display of choral and orchestral selections at an assembly for the J.C. student body and faculty. Mr. Keith McKillop and Miss Esther Ingham, the music instructors at the high school, are looking forward to the concert, and the student are working hard in anticipation of this engagement at the jaysee.

Miss Ingham will direct her choir of 40 blended voices in a presentation of American and Suabian folk songs. The choir will also sing two negro spirituals, and special attention will be directed to her three soloists, Sue Armstrong, Betty Smith, and Shirley Oliver. Charles Link will have the responsibility of announcing the numbers.

Mr. McKillop hopes to fill out an important other-half of the program when his 48-piece orchestra undertakes the playing of such numbers as "To a Water Lily," "Meadowlands," "Overture to Don Pasquale," and "Rosa-munde" overture.

This promises to be one of the most pleasant programs of the J.C. this semester. Mr. McCann says, "It will be nice if every student will take advantage of his opportunity to hear beautiful music and attend this important affair."

Alpha Gamma Sigma Admit New Members

With the largest membership since the beginning of the war, the Alpha Gamma Sigma last week elected Jim Armstrong its president for this semester to succeed Elinor Smith. Other officers for this semester are: Irene Hurst, vice-president; Adeline Brusa, secretary; and Virginia Turano, treasurer.

Initiation of new members was also included in the meeting. Those initiated were: Virginia

J.C. Representatives Join With Local Chamber of Commerce

The Salinas Chamber of Commerce has added to its membership by requesting student representatives from Salinas Junior College and Salinas Union High School to participate at their meetings.

Attending a recent dinner meeting with the local chamber of commerce board of directors were three Esjaysee representatives, Barbara Heple, Dexter Whitcomb, and Elmer Hawkins.

At a later date, other jaysee students will be appointed to the various committees of the chamber of commerce as honorary

Sadie Hawkins' Day Plans Are Progressing

Preparations for the Sadie Hawkins' dance are well under way by the Upsilon Gamma Chi committee members and officers. Scheduled to be held in the Student Union, the dance will be from eight o'clock to eleven o'clock, with admission being 80 cents per couple and 40 cents for stags. This dance is not limited to jaysee students alone.

General chairman of the annual evening dance is Miss Bessie Cominos, and Esjaysee's Laurie Jacobsen and his band will provide the music. Decorations are in the charge of Miss Merrie Case, and will be in the Dog-patch style. The clean-up committee will be composed of Gamma Nu pledges. Entertainment will be in the form of singing, and as yet, an undisclosed form of amusement.

The clothes for this annual occasion should consist of jeans for the men and gingham for the women. During the day, the women will have the pleasure of

EDITORIAL

A valuable asset to the college and its students is Esjaysee's ever-increasing library where new books and magazine literature are being received from time to time to be used for research and reading pleasure by both faculty and students.

Our library, though not the largest and most complete collection of volumes that some of the other colleges possess, is gradually extending as additional books come in purchased either by the college or through gift-donation, by contributors who have an interest in Salinas Junior College and wish to have a part in furthering the library's growth.

A new magazine rack has been installed since the start of the college year last fall and is conveniently located in the library. There, current magazines are at the reader's disposal, and latest issues and additional subscriptions are received continuously. A newspaper rack containing several daily news editions is also near at hand for the students.

Non-fiction books, currently popular as best sellers, are acquired constantly and can be found on the shelves for pleasure reading and act as a diversion from the heavier type of reading.

It is easy to realize what an indispensable aid the library is to all in advancing one's knowledge and seeking relaxation in a variety of magazine articles and novels.

Exhibit Continues For One More Week

There is still one more week left for the Federal Arts Project paintings now on display in the Little Art Gallery. The lithographs, wood cuts, and etchings on the East Wall are exceptionally good in taste and design. The majority of them are by San Francisco artists. The water colors exhibited are primarily of California landscapes and scenes.

Fifteen works are on exhibit and are represented by the following artists: William Hesthal, Julius Pommer, Charles Surendorf, Paul Julian, George Post, Herman Volz, John Warren, John Holland, and Dong Kingman.

Recent New Books In Library Listed

As new books continuously pour into the library, it is impossible to list them all, but new on the list of recent books there are:

"The Curtain Rises," by the noted author, Quentin Reynolds, giving the American people authentic details about incidents in Iran, Russia, Poland, the Mediterranean seaports, Italy, and Salerno.

"Prejudice," by Carey McWilliams. The purpose of this book is to show that military cliques in Japan began nearly 50 years ago to lay the foundation for the acceptance by the Japanese people of the idea of an eventual war against the United States; and further, deals with the race segregation of Japanese-Americans.

A novel of short stories about individualists who contributed to America's growth is given in "Lonely Americans," by Rollo W. Brown. The stories are about Charles William Eliot, James McNeill Whistler, Edward MacDowall, George Bellows, Charles E. Norton, Raphael Pumpelly, Emily Dickinson, and Abraham Lincoln.

J. W. Barrett has written an admirable biography of the famous journalist Joseph Pulitzer in "Joseph Pulitzer and His World." This is the story of the man who gave journalism its most distinctive impulse and its most sensational success, and also provided its most moving tragedy.

Jaysee Faculty Honors Lemos on Birthday

Monday evening, the living room of the Home Ec. department was the scene of a pot-luck dinner party put on by the J.C. faculty members. It was held for President Lemos in honor of his birthday.

The event of the evening was a surprise visit by the recently-married Lt. and Mrs. Jack Kympton. Mrs. Kympton is the former Miss Frieda Hutchinson, at one time an instructor at the college, and Lieutenant Kympton is a former J.C. student-body president.

Following the dinner and the presentation of a gift to President Lemos from the faculty, whist was enjoyed by the guests in which interesting prizes were awarded the winners.

Dance Planned By Rainbow Girls

The Rainbow Club discussed plans for a dance to be held for the junior officers at the air base, at their recent party on Monday afternoon, February 26, in the Home Economics Living Room. Plans were also laid for a speaker at a future all coed assembly at Esjaysee.

Pat Hayes and Bessie Cominos were in charge of the party. Those furnishing the entertainment were Gloria Terrill, Fran Phillips, Pat Sims, Joyce Abbott, and Irene Hurst.

STUDENTS GOING IN SERVICE RECEIVE CREDIT FOR COURSES

Working in much the same way this semester as it has in the past, a system has been arranged to give all students who are called into the armed services credit for the work they have completed. Those students completing a full 12 weeks of work with passing grades will be given credit for an entire semester of work.

The student who is here less than 12 weeks will have his credit determined on the basis of the proportion of work done.

For instance, if he were taking a three-unit course and had completed three of the eighteen weeks, then his total would be one half of a unit. The administration has also made arrangements to give the student who completes 12 weeks of work full credit for the entire semester, providing, of course, he is passing the subject.

This system has been set up to encourage students to continue their courses despite the fact that they may not be able to complete the semester, in every case.

Three J.C. Coeds Get Scholarships

Three J.C. women have been awarded scholarships by Beta Pi, a local branch of Beta Sigma Phi. Beta Sigma Phi is an international business-women's organization that was established 12 years ago for the purpose of helping a number of coeds each year with some of the expenses of college. There are branches of this body all over the United States, in Canada and Hawaii. The Salinas division was started in 1939.

The three Salinas J.C. coeds who have been awarded these monetary scholarships are Irene Pimintel, Bertha Quinones, and Ann Casati.

Under the chairmanship of Mrs. Anna E. Rossi, the Salinas Valley Chapter of the American Red Cross met in room 25 at Esjaysee on Wednesday afternoon, February 21, for the purpose of hearing a regional worker speak.

The supervisor of the Disaster Service, Pacific Area office, Miss Elizabeth McMechin, talked about the disaster preparations of the Red Cross, lectured on their policies, and gave examples of work done in disaster areas.

Attending this meeting were home service workers, office personnel, and staff assistants of the Red Cross.

Last Time to Drop Courses Is Today!

Today ends the first six-week period of the college's spring semester and is the last day students may drop any of their courses. Sophs Prepare For Annual Show

Plans for the annual Soph Show, to be presented on March 16, are well under way, according to Irene Hurst, head of the Soph committee. Four skits, one including faculty members, and a number of musical numbers, promise to make the show a very interesting one. Taking part in the program will be: Dexter Whitecomb, Jerry Cole, Barbara Heple, Sammy McGill, Ruth Goerling, Elmer Hawkins, Frances Phillips, a number of faculty members, and the "A Cappella" under the direction of Mr. McCann. Master of ceremonies for the show will be Jim Armstrong. Miss Hurst as chairman of the show will be assisted by Jerry Cole and Jim Armstrong.

BOOK GUILD OPEN TO ALL

If you new students have not become acquainted with the Book Guild, now is the time. This organization supplies all members with usually one or two classics and one or two best sellers. Each month a student pays 35 cents at the Book Store and, for this, he gets a choice of one of four or five books. If he so desires, he may get as many books of that month's selection as he desires by paying an additional 35 cents per book. Every five months the member gets a book gratis by paying a handling charge of five cents, providing he has purchased at least one book for each of the preceding four months.

There is no other charge for joining the Book Guild; all a member does is pay 35 cents each month at the Book Store, designate a choice and obtain the book a few days later.

Unlike some types of book guilds, there are no pledges to sign nor is one compelled to buy books if he doesn't want to. The guild is run on a purely month-to-month basis. Students do not have to sign up for any specified amount of time.

The books are attractively bound and printed on good paper, making a nice, lasting copy for their library.

JC Student Store Open on the Hour

Open every hour on the hour for the convenience of students, the Student Store is the headquarters for all types of school supplies, including books, pencils, paper, etc. Also included in the stock are various types of candies and other sweets.

Used books can also be bought at a reduction in price, therefore making it profitable to get textbooks early in the semester.

At the end of the semester, books which may be used the following semester will be bought back at half price by the store, but no book will be bought before the termination of the semester.

and Margaret Turgeon. After the initiation each member introduced himself and told what his plans were for future education. Jean Stefan and Bettie Moore served refreshments.

Outgoing officers in addition to Elinor Smith, retiring president, were: Joe Cook, vice-president; Margaret Turgeon, secretary; and Ada Bassi, treasurer.

EYE

SPY

By BETTY BAGBY

Seen around the campus during the past week were CHARLOTTE ANTHONY, ETTA CLAUSSEN, and LLOYD WESLEY. Lloyd was knocking himself out at horseshoes, which sport by the way, is a new addition to the school.

After the basketball bout with San Mateo Saturday evening, the local gals and guys journeyed to the home of BARBARA FOSTER for a party. Present for the affair were: BARBARA and DEX; PAT HEPLER, BOB BOLES; WILMA ANDERSON, EDDIE WARK; GLORIA TERRILL, BOB WORK; MYRNA BILLUPS, ELMER HAWKINS; JANICE SMITH, DICK LINDSAY; JEAN (cute gal) and "JIMMY" STROBEL; BETTIE MOORE, BILL BINGAMAN; LLOYD WESLEY, TONY SANCHEZ, WELLINGTON SMITH, STERLING PATRICK, KEITH DAUGHERTY, JERRY COLE, BARBARA FOSTER, "STINKY" WILLIAMS; MARY FLEMING, and MARY ABBOTT were escorted in at a late hour by a sailor.

HAL KIRKPATRICK and MARIE O'MERA are still on the going-steady list, being found together most any time on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays. Speaking of steadies, there are DICK LINDSAY and JANICE SMITH.

Breathing the fresh spring air and having lunch with curious cows were BOB BOLES, PAT HEPLER, GLORIA TERRILL, BOB WORK, BETTY BAGBY and MONK LEWIS, who went for a picnic Sunday. Picnic was for BOB BOLES who left for the service Wednesday.

A newcomer to Esjaysee is EVETTE from Carmel.

Last basketball game of the season will be this Saturday night. The basketball players will journey to Gilroy for their final meet. Speaking of basketball, BUSTER HOUSE, a "star," can be heard murmuring choice words at any given opportunity. We believe his whole vocabulary consists of DEADLY, MONSTER, MANIAC, and RADAR. The man's educated.

PAT HAYES is really hot when pitching a baseball. Other celebrities in that field are PEGGY TAYLOR, DOROTHY BLACK, FRANCES PHILLIPS, HARRIET KNOWLES, BEATRICE MOSLEY, ADA BASSI, LORRAINE ORR, LILLIS HARRIS, and let's don't forget MISS HANDLEY, her favorite stunt being to hide the ball.

Taking and developing pictures like mad is JAKE. He's really got some good ones and we do mean good.

Birthday greetings go to PRESIDENT LEMOS whose birthday was Tuesday. A supper in his honor was given for him by the faculty of Salinas J.C., on Monday evening.

PHYLLIS GEORGE is courting the flu bug. Also ill is ED JURACH, who has been absent for several weeks.

Seems that BOB WILLIAMS has the misfortune to get ptomaine poison every time he goes out with DOLORES BRENDEL, not that she is the guilty suspect. It happened when they stopped in at a restaurant for a snack; BOB came home not feeling too well; the same happening when he returned from a hike. BRENDA survived without a slightest tummyache.

WELLINGTON SMITH, BUSTER HOUSE, and others have been spending their spare time playing golf on the local course. WALLY is a pro at the game. Watch him swing the club sometime.

Well, adios . . .

Basketballers Play Last Game Tomorrow Night

Playing their last game of the '45 season the jaysee cagers will travel to Gilroy tomorrow night to tangle with the Gilroy High School quintets in a scheduled return-match. Game-time is set for 7:30. Both the varsity and

WAA Ping-Pong Match Still On

Some people play good ping pong, but others play better. The W.A.A. tournament, which has been running for the past two weeks, is an important agent in setting up those who play best.

Taylor, Castor, and Wheeler may look just a trifle dejected after suffering defeats, respectively, to Melrose, M. Williams, and Dunn, but the coeds' tournament is far from over. There are still heated matches yet to be played before the final winner is announced.

The men's tournament, no less exciting, is doing its best to leave only the most accomplished in the tournament. Up to Tuesday of this week there were six left in the running with each one having enough confidence in himself to make it especially tough for the opponent. The winners in the first play-off were B. Williams, Wardle, Cassady, House, Whitcomb, W. Smith, and Trine.

Panthers Lose Tough One To San Mateo J.C. Cagers

Playing one of the hardest games this year the Panther basketball squad lost a thriller to the team which traveled down here from San Mateo last Saturday night. The final score was 51-34.

The first half was very much in San Mateo's favor, ending with the invaders on the long end of a 28-9 tally. It was very one-sided, for the Panther squad couldn't seem to find themselves.

jayvees will see action in this final meet.

The Panther aggregation is hoping for a repetition of the previous game staged against Gilroy on the college courts a few weeks ago. Esjaysee came out on top in both contests, and with some fairly big scores.

With three defeats chalked up against them for the past same number of weeks, the varsity is out to win, and make their last game a victorious one. Coach G. D. Peavy will probably start his usual team. Buster House, high-point man in the San Mateo contest, will start at the center post. Bob Work and Monte Lewis will take over the forward duties, while Wellington Smith and Jimmy Strobel will start in the guard spots.

The jayvees will be minus two men, Bobby Boles and Roy Vincent. Bob is off to the armed forces, and Roy was injured a few weeks ago and will not be able to finish out the season.

Williams and House won their games from Jacobsen and Boles, who forfeited, and the other losers in order were Peavy, Work, Dye, J. Parker, and Lewis.

In the second half the Panthers made a comeback, collecting two more points than their opponents but they were still unable to close up the long lead the San Mateans had run up during the first half.

Buster House was high-point man of the night, collecting eight while Bob Work and Wellington Smith were second with seven each. The rest of the scorers were: Hawkins 5, Trine 4, and Lewis 3.

Sports By Ann Casati Chatter

Last game of the basketball season will take place tomorrow night in the Gilroy gym against the high school quintets. Both Panther teams are hoping for a repetition of their last meet with the Gilroy lads.

As college students are looking forward to the various sports ushered in by spring, namely baseball and track, with horseshoes an added activity this season, the baseball nines in the P.C. League are beginning their annual spring training, and, in fact, some did actually begin this week. With most of the contracts signed and more to be inked as the training period fades into reality, the San Francisco Seals have announced a training schedule which will feature them against a semi-pro outfit in the Bay region, nine service teams, and a Coast League aggregation. The S.F. team will grace four service diamonds during their practice session, leaving the remaining games for their home stadium. Most of the opponent teams will be reinforced with major league caliber. The Portland Beavers will afford evenly-matched competition as the league team. In the semi-pro division the Skipper's boys will be meeting Moffat-Manteca, meaning a big share of major league material.

The Oakland Acorns started spring training at Boyes Springs at the beginning of the week.

Latest report from the S.J.C. sports department is that as the basketball season ends, the annual spring controversy is present, and the bid will probably be for track. Coach Peavy will attend a C.C.A.L. meeting on the fifth of March and will try to arrange with the various high schools for track meets. In the meantime the fellows in the twelve o'clock gym class are practicing baseball tactics. Remember the Men-Coed two-and-a-half inning game held last April? The final score was 9-8, and the game was called because of time, to the men's advantage.

Start practicing up on your horseshoes now if you wish to enter the tournament. A few weeks' practice, until the candidates are able to toss a shoe and average a fairly good score, is all that is holding up the tournament now. The pit is located at the entrance of the men's gym.

Horseshoe Tourney Sign-ups to Begin

Beginning soon will be a sign-up for men and women wishing to enter the horseshoe tournament which will commence in about two weeks. The sign-up lists for men and women will be separate. One week's practice will be allowed before the tournament begins, giving the participants a chance to brush up on their playing technique. A pit has been set up by the entrance of the men's gym, so start practicing today!

TENNIS CALL ISSUED SOON

A call for tennis players will be issued next week, stated G. Darwin Peavy, head of the athletic department, today. The team members have much opportunity to test their talent, for Coach Peavy has many plans for the team this year.

Returning veterans from last year's squad are Elmer Hawkins and Dexter Whitcomb, who last year managed to win their share of matches for the Panthers. The team's strength will also be bolstered by freshmen, who starred on the area high school teams during the last couple of years.
